

Civilians Are Victims of Cambodians

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
SAANG, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian riflemen marched a group of Vietnamese civilians carrying a white flag into the teeth of Viet Cong automatic weapons fire today at the order of a Cambodian general.

The Vietnamese were told to ask the Viet Cong in this village 18 miles south of Phnom Penh to go away and let them live in peace. The Viet Cong opened up on the group, wounding at least two of the Vietnamese.

Gen. Sosthen Fernandes told newsmen: "It was a good way to discover where the Viet Cong have their automatic weapons. Now we know where they are so the mission was an extremely fruitful one for us."

Buses brought the Vietnamese to Saang, the village on the Bassac River which the Viet Cong took over Sunday. The Cambodians said the Vietnamese were residents of Cambodia who had volunteered to "talk some sense" to the Viet Cong.

In the middle of the afternoon the group set out on a road leading from the last Cambodian position through no man's land to Saang. Every 40 yards the group stopped and appealed to the Viet Cong by a portable bullhorn. They also planned to distribute leaflets in Vietnamese and Cambodian.

When the group reached a bridge just before the first structures in Saang, the Viet Cong opened fire. The Vietnamese and newsmen with them scattered into banana fields as Cambodian troops answered the Viet Cong rounds. The Vietnamese and the newsmen were caught in a crossfire.

The general said most of the Vietnamese crawled to safety. "This exercise now gave us a good reading for our 105mm cannon," he said.

As he spoke the big guns opened up.

The Vietnamese were mostly Catholics—men, women and children. Many prayed as they walked up the road.

A young seminarian who held the white flag on a bamboo pole was asked if he was really a volunteer. He shook his head and said he and the others had been rounded up in four villages.

Later in the day, 10 of the Vietnamese were thought to be missing.

The general said the Viet Cong had about two battalions in Saang and were bringing up more men by motorcycle. It is the closest they have gotten to Phnom Penh.

An English-language newspaper, the Saigon Post, said the Cambodian government was asking all Vietnamese living in border provinces to "temporarily leave" Cambodia to avoid being mistaken for Viet Cong.

At least 600 Vietnamese residents of Cambodia, and perhaps many more, have been killed since Sihanouk was overthrown last month. The government says they were caught in crossfires between government and Cambodian troops, but foreign observers generally are convinced that they were massacred in the anti-Vietnamese campaign which the government has whipped up.

The government in Phnom Penh today criticized foreign press reports about deaths of Vietnamese civilians and said 3,554 Cambodians had been killed by the Viet Cong or had disappeared.

and diplomatic situation."

Declaring that Hanoi would take a grave risk should it jeopardize remaining U.S. troops through military moves in Vietnam, Cambodia or Laos, Nixon said:

"If I conclude that increased enemy action jeopardizes our remaining forces in Vietnam, I shall not hesitate to take strong and effective measures to deal with that situation."

While saying Vietnamization will proceed on schedule, Nixon said:

"There is a better, shorter path to peace—through negotiations. We shall withdraw more than 150,000 over the next year if we make progress on the negotiating front."

The executive cited three principles governing his view of just political settlement of the war:

"First, our overriding objective is a political solution that reflects the will of the South Vietnamese people and allows them to determine their future without outside interference."

"Second, a fair political solution should reflect the existing relationship of political forces within South Vietnam. We recognize the complexity of shaping machinery that would fairly apportion political power in South Vietnam. We are flexible; we have offered nothing on a take-it-or-leave-it basis."

"And third, we will abide by the outcome of the political process agreed upon."

Nixon said Hanoi had failed to win either militarily or politically in South Vietnam.

"They thought they could win politically in the United States," he said. "This proved to be their most fatal miscalculation."

High Court to Take Up State Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arguments are to be presented to the Supreme Court either April 30 or May 4 in a case which will test the use of the death penalty.

The case involves William L. Maxwell, a Hot Springs Negro sentenced to the electric chair for the rape of a white woman in 1961.

At issue is whether one jury can handle the question of guilt and capital punishment, and whether a jury can impose the death penalty without any guidance from the law or the judge.

Fair Weather Likely to End Tuesday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fair weather that Arkansas has experienced for the past couple of days was expected to end late tonight or early Wednesday as a low pressure system moves into the state triggering showers.

The system, which was located in Texas early today, was expected to move into the state by Wednesday morning spreading showers across the area Wednesday and Wednesday night, the Weather Bureau said.

The bureau said the extended outlook called for the possibility of showers to continue through Thursday with slightly cooler temperatures.

Highs Monday ranged from 77 at Fayetteville to 83 at Fort Smith.

Overnight lows included 36 at Fayetteville, 41 at Harrison, 44 at Jonesboro, 50 at Pine Bluff, 52 at Texarkana, 47 at El Dorado and Memphis, 46 at Little Rock and 42 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period which ended at 7 a.m. today.

$4 Billion for Pollution to Be Asked

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel said today the $4 billion the Nixon administration plans to spend on its program to curb water pollution is a reasonable price.

"We do not exaggerate the problems and we are not asking for a commitment of resources beyond what is needed and can be used effectively," he said.

Objection to the money figure has risen from some members of Congress who feel it does not commit enough federal funds soon enough and long enough to do an adequate job.

Outlining the administration's program before the air and water pollution subcommittee headed by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, Hickel said in prepared testimony the $4 billion figure, to be spread over four years, is all that can reasonably be spent.

Hickel said the total amount, when state allocations are added, would be some $10 billion for water treatment facilities.

Muskie has proposed spending $2.5 billion yearly over five years—a federal contribution he said would give a total working capital of $20 billion to $25 billion when state and local contributions are added.

Hickel said the administration regards its proposed water pollution legislation as realistic but said it does not and cannot constitute a complete solution to the problem.

"The accelerating changes in every aspect of life, now so obvious in the environment at large, may well compel changes in our approaches to environmental problems," Hickel said.

The Nixon program calls for a combination of federally set water pollution standards, federal grants to local government for treatment plants and other facilities and federal regulation based on fact-finding hearings and buttressed by a set of fines ranging to $10,000 a day.

Wants Formal Ethics Code

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Edward L. Wright of Little Rock, president-elect of the American Bar Association, urged banking industry Monday to adopt a formal code of ethics because of the threat of greater governmental control over banks.

Wright told about 600 bankers attending the Southern Regional Convention of the Bank Administration Institute that the bank industry should be "especially sensitive" to its privileges and obligations.

15 prisoners, 71 weapons, nearly 4,000 pounds of rice and 1,000 Russian rifle cartridges.

As it did during the two previous operations across the border, South Vietnamese headquarters announced the new assault but placed it on the Vietnamese side of the border. Highly placed sources said this was done for "obvious political reasons," although informed sources have said the cross-border operations have the full approval of local Cambodian authorities.

There was no immediate evidence of any American involvement. One U.S. officer said that to the best of his knowledge American advisers were not with the troops who moved into Cambodia.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said there had been no reports of American air or artillery strikes into Cambodia in support of the South Vietnamese. The bombers and artillery participating in the operation were reported to be South Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese operations inside Cambodia are directed at scores of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps and staging areas used for attacks against U.S. and South Vietnamese forces in South Vietnam in the two big operations last week. South Vietnamese forces claimed they smashed two base camps and killed 450 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

The U.S. Command announced the loss of two more helicopters in South Vietnam and a U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bomber shot down while supporting Laotian forces near the Plain of Jars in north Central Laos.

One of the helicopters hit a power line last Friday and crashed into a river 15 miles northeast of Saigon, killing 11 of the 12 Americans aboard. A spokesman said the cause of the crash was under investigation.

The other helicopter was shot down Monday 21 miles northwest of Saigon, wounding one American.

The F105 fighter-bomber also was hit Monday, and the pilot is missing. It was the 19th American aircraft reported lost over Laos since March 10, when the U.S. Command began reporting air losses in Laos.

Boswell Will Be Seeking Nomination

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ted Boswell of Bryant says Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr.'s switch from the Democratic party to the Republican party will not keep him from seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Boswell admitted, however, that his chances of being elected governor would be hurt by Cockrill's move.

Boswell, who ran third in the 1968 Democratic gubernatorial primary, said he did not plan to make any definite moves until close to the June 16 filing deadline. He said, however, he was "more in than out" of the 1970 race at this time.

The Bryant lawyer also said it was not accurate to describe him as the same type of candidate as Cockrill.

"While Cockrill's changeover to a Republican is a blow, it will not be a deterring factor to me," Boswell said. "I don't think his going to the Republican party hurt anybody but me. A lot of progressive people over there would have supported me."

Boswell said Cockrill called him last Wednesday night and told him he was switching to the GOP.

"I said I hoped he wouldn't do it," Boswell said. "He told me then that he had a problem because he was pretty much divided between Hayes (Rep. McClerkin of Texarkana) and myself as to whom he would support. I don't know which is worse for the state of Arkansas, the old Democratic system or this new Rockefeller dynasty."

Group Ready for Action on Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee appeared ready today to move into the controversy created by efforts to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said a closed-door meeting by his panel is designed to "chart our future course" in the Douglas affair.

Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, ranking Republican committee member, predicted a special Judiciary unit will be named to study the charges.

Composition of such a unit is a point in dispute. GOP committee members favor an evenly balanced unit between Republicans and Democrats rather than a Democratic margin reflecting makeup of the House.

Conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats are backing an alternative approach for creation of a new special six-man committee—three Democrats and three Republicans—to investigate whether Douglas, a 31-year veteran of the court, should be impeached.

Instead of being referred to the Judiciary Committee, which traditionally handles impeachment investigations, the alternative proposal went to the House Rules Committee since it creates a new unit.

It is possible under House procedures for both probes to go forward at the same time. Som., however, have interpreted the Judiciary move as an alternative Rules Committee.

names would be announced later this week.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert began Monday an extensive debriefing on the mission in a tape-recorded session with space experts.

Astronaut chief Donald K. Slayton and Air Force Maj. Lloyd Reeder, an astronaut training specialist, listened for eight hours as the spacemen recounted their trip, including the moment when an oxygen tank erupted, depriving the command ship of precious oxygen and power and forcing them to use the lunar module systems to save their lives.

Additional eight-hour sessions are scheduled each of the next nine days as the astronauts recall every aspect of the journey. They'll go over systems in the command and lunar ships, discuss medical details, assess the rescue procedures that got them home and make personal observations and recommendations.

A 150-man mission evaluation team continued to sort through mounds of data, seeking clues to what caused oxygen tank No. 2 to erupt. Electrical systems received special attention because of the possibility of a short circuit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration released Monday a film of the astronauts aboard their craft in space.

The 6½ minute, 16 mm movie included several scenes of them sleeping in the lunar module, scenes recorded after the accident.

F11 Probe Has Reached an Arkansas Firm

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Federal Grand Jury for the Eastern District of Arkansas heard seven witnesses Monday in an investigation of parts produced by the Self Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge for the controversial F-11 airplane.

The U.S. attorney's office has subpoenaed about 30 witnesses to testify in the case and testimony is to continue today.

Selb made the upper and lower parts for the "wing box" which contains pivots of the movable wings of the plane, and some sizes of the long-erons, the ribs that form the airplane fuselage. General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., prime contractor, canceled the purchase orders for the parts last June 30.

General Dynamics has filed a $3 million lawsuit against Harry C. Bass Jr. of St. Louis, president of Selb, accusing Bass of "fraudulently corrupting" two aircraft parts inspectors to conceal defective parts.

Selb has filed a $4.9 million suit alleging that General Dynamics acted "wrongfully and without justification" in canceling the contracts.

The Navy version of the plane was dropped last year primarily because it was too heavy for use on aircraft carriers. The Air Force version has been grounded since December when a wing fell off one of the planes, killing two pilots.

Most of the witnesses present to testify before the Grand Jury are, or were, associated with Selb and General Dynamics.

able to take over the combat. Nixon sounded a theme that may be heard again in 1972 when he said "America has never been defeated in our proud 180-year history and we shall not be defeated in Vietnam." He also pledged again an "eventual, total withdrawal of American troops" without fixing a deadline.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., says Nixon is in fact following Aiken's publicized formula for a Vietnam solution—declare victory and get out.

Whether this is an apt description will not be proved by election time 1970 and maybe not by 1972. While the 150,000-man withdrawal is described as irreversible, Nixon left options open thereafter and military men say the crucial tests on how well South Vietnam can go it alone are yet to come.

invaders. Alpha 66 Secretary-General Andres Nazario told a Miami news conference that guerrilla groups had been established in several parts of Cuba and that there would be more landings.

Nazario appealed to members of Cuban armed forces, students, workers, farmers and government officials to join the Alpha 66 forces.

He said Alpha's contingents inside Cuba "are divided into two basic groups; moreover, there are several other guerrilla nuclei."

Nazario declined to give the number or location of the invaders. He said they were "well supplied and have the latest automatic weapons and all types of equipment to sustain a lengthy campaign."

Nazario rejected Castro's claim that the landing force was made up of mercenaries.

Once upon a time there was a fashion genie who said... "Let there be hems to the knee." And all the women of the land wore their hems to the knee.

And then one day, the genie said... "Let there be hems above the knee." And all the women of the land raised their hems above the knee. Some a little, some a little more and some went way, way up. . . .

And then one day the genie said... "Let there be hems down to there." Well, by this time the women of the land decided that while they like the genie's last decree, they also liked his first two. And so, women being women, and as unpredictable as the wind that blows... decided to do their own thing... and all at the same time!

The moral of the story is: Genies are genies but there's no genie like a woman with taste who purchases her clothes from a reliable shop. Because no matter how many lengths there are, this magical store will have them all and will help you select the right one for the right occasion. It may be a casual little dress to wear in the mornings... a costume for luncheons and bridge or an after-five for that important "with him" party. Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Sesame Street" is the most widely acclaimed television show in years and is virtually certain to win a Peabody Award today.

Nevertheless, this public television program for preschool children has its critics.

The most serious criticism to date comes from Dr. Frank Garfunkel, a Boston University professor and director of the Headstart Evaluation and Research Center, who calls it "an educational mirage."

Garfunkel charges in the current issue of the university alumni magazine, Bostonia, that "the claim that 'Sesame Street' is a major educational or media innovation is preposterous."

"Memorization of numbers and letters—which 'Sesame Street' does best—is an absurd enterprise for an $8 million project," he says. A major objection is his contention that memorization of material is stressed while understanding is ignored.

He says the number and letter sequences often are presented "in the short, trigger-happy bursts of TV commercials."

Garfunkel calls for a personalized form of instruction with an interpersonal relationship between the teacher and pupil. He suggests "Sesame Street" should televise spontaneous class situations with real children exploring their environment, interacting and dealing with problems.

There have been other criticisms of the show, but Garfunkel's is the most serious charge by an eminent educator.

Gerald Lesser, Bigelow professor at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and chairman of the board of advisers and consultants for "Sesame Street," when asked for comment, said, "The emphasis on cognitive skills is very heavy, and the reason is that 'Sesame Street' is largely directed toward inner city kids. The things they need to learn are the fundamentals."

"It is very obvious to us the important consequences of acquiring rudimentary cognitive skills among these children. The pupil feels he knows something worth knowing and this is important for his own feelings about himself."

Lesser said the method adopted for the show was a viable alternative to a personalized relationship, which he said would be impossible to convey on television.

He said the criticism was "a tiresome assertion" by someone "who feels he knows the one best way to teach kids."

A preliminary survey taken in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn showed a "significant increase in language and reasoning skills" among those watching it," Lesser said.

The effect on my 4-year-old daughter of watching "Sesame Street" has been remarkable. Her knowledge of the alphabet and numbers now extends to word recognition and elementary writing skills.

"Sesame Street" has had a major impact on commercial television. It has forced the networks into new thinking about children's programs and the results will be seen in seasons to come. "Sesame Street" well deserves a Peabody Award.

BABY SITTERS SPEAK-OUT—AGAIN
Dear Readers: Each time I publish a letter from a disgruntled babysitter, I'm deluged with replies, from sitters and employers alike. Here are a few of the best answers to the girl who wrote "What is a Baby Sitter?"

Dear Helen: When I read the letter from P.J., the "put upon" babysitter, I got so mad that I tore it from the paper. Here is MY version of sitting: A babysitter is a person who: Is always ready on time, without complaint. Has to stay up later than expected, but doesn't complain. After all, it's a job well done, and he gets paid for the extra hours.

Is prepared for the unexpected.

Brings toys and games for the kids, and books for himself after they go to bed.

Sits for extra kids, and usually is treated fairly by the parents, with extra pay or some kind of gift.

Obeys all rules set down by parents.

Is asked many questions, but why not? An employer doesn't want a stranger sitting with his children.

Eats before leaving home and doesn't clean out the refrigerator, though he enjoys the snacks time are the jack and three. If East held both he would not have led the seven. If East held just the jack he would have led it.

So declarer gets this trick but he can't make his contract without the clubs. He takes the club finesse. East wins and leads his last spade to give West three tricks for the one he let go earlier.

Opening lead—A4

We used to know a character whose nickname was "Generous George." George specialized in refusing to win tricks or even going out of his way to lose them provided, of course, that he would get two or three tricks back as a reward for his generosity. It was George's custom to accompany his gift with a nice speech but somehow or other his opponents never seemed properly appreciative.

You don't have to be as good a player as George to know when to give away some tricks. All you have to be is a player who can count to whatever number of tricks you need to make your contract or to set the declarer if you are defending.

South's opening no-trump is classic as is North's raise to game.

So is West's opening lead of the four of spades. Fourth best of your longest suit is a lead handed down from our wisest playing grandfathers.

East rises with the ace. Just as automatic a play as there is and makes his proper return of the seven spot. South goes up with the queen. He hopes that this mild false-card will get West to take the trick but if West is any sort of bridge player he simply gives the trick to South. The only two spades he can't account for at this

New Eye Shadow
A leading cosmetic manufacturer has a new eye shadow in cream form that dries quickly to a light matte finish on the lid and upper eye area. This new product concept combines the advantages of a cream form in application and a powder form in effect on lids. The product comes in a jar from which it is stroked onto the lid with a sponge slant-tip applicator.

Lanolin Helps Hair
Let's face it, girls. Sleeping on rollers may damage your hair. Hair dryers may cause a hair breakage. So what's a girl to do about split ends? Can't prance around with droopy hair that's lost its pizzazz, can you? What you CAN do is use baby oil or lanolin on the ends of your hair as you set it. The moisturizer will condition your hair, dry or wet, and help prevent any further harm.

Doesn't Want Son to Be Born a 'Pig'
JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The soon-to-be-born child of Air Force 1st Lt. Bill Batchler and his wife, Linda, will be a "bonafide citizen of Texas" even if he is born in Arkansas.

Batchler and his wife are native Texans stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base. Their baby is expected May 4 and the couple has no hope of returning to Texas before that time.

Batchler asked for the assistance of Texas Gov. Preston Smith, explaining the background of he and his wife.

"Would you want your child born a 'pig'?" Batchler wrote Smith, in reference to the University of Arkansas football team nickname, the Razorbacks.

Smith responded with a certificate declaring that the couple's child would be a "bonafide citizen of Texas" — with all rights, privileges and emoluments appertaining to said office.

Track, Golf Teams Going to Magnolia

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Today the HHS golfers and track team travel to Magnolia in some rough competition.

The golf team is coming off of a rough week-end. On Friday, they lost a close one to Camden 10-8 but beat Fordyce on Saturday 17-1 to compile a 7-2 overall record and 6-1 in 4AA competition.

Against Camden, Jack Turner took medalist honors with a 4 over par 74 while Ralph Rounton took the 2nd position with rounds of 79 and 76.

Switching to the track scene, in some of the interesting events Ray Wheelington will be trying to break the school record for the 120 yard low hurdles of better than 19.5 which he ran last Saturday.

Lee Davis will be trying to better his 10.1 in the 100 yard dash and the 440 relay team will be attempting to better their own school record of 44.7.

Also Artis Martin has jumped 20' 1/2" in the broad jump with Tommy Frazier and Roy Rogers improving steadily on the 880 yard run.

For the Junior high David Johnson will probably be running the 100 and 220 yard dashes and broad jumping with Mike Waters and Danny Joyce running the 880.

David Huddleston, Wade Harris, and Mike Crawford will probably be the shot and discus throwers with Buddy Ingram at the pole vault pit.

Stars Lose, Dallas Has 2-Game Edge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With the new owner in town for the first time, it was about as inauspicious a show as one can imagine.

To begin with, the Los Angeles Stars dropped a 116-104 decision to Dallas, giving the Chaparrals a 2-1 edge in their best-of-seven series in the Western Division playoffs of the American Basketball Association.

Add to that the fact that new owner Bill Daniels witnessed the game as one of possibly the smallest crowd ever to watch a pro basketball playoff game—971 souls.

Coach Bill Sharman and his Stars hope to even their series with the Chaps Wednesday night at the nearby Anaheim Convention Center. The Stars were without the services of Willie Wise for most of the game and the 6-foot-6 former Drake star was sorely missed.

Ron Boone and Cincy Powell powered the Chaps into a nine-point lead midway through the third period after a 53-48 half-time edge. When the Stars' fast break stalled, Dallas zoomed ahead 90-71 and the game was all but over.

Boone scored 22 points, Powell 19 and guard Glen Combs also scored 19 in leading the winners. The Stars were led by rookie guard Mack Calvin with 28.

"We sure missed Willie," Sharman said about Wise, who has two painfully sprained ankles. He saw only three minutes of action in the crucial second half. Dallas Coach Max Williams noted that the absence of Wise was a key factor.

In the other Western Division playoff game, the Spencer Haywood-led Denver Rockets take their 2-1 advantage into Washington Wednesday night to play the Caps with Rick Barry.

Home Is Good Place to Break Slump

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's no place like home to break out of a slump—and no where better than the friendly right field roof in Forbes Field. Friendly? Well, friendly for Willie Stargell, anyway.

Stargell, hung with a monstrous .037 batting average, launched a typical, out-of-sight homer over the faraway double-tiered roof and carried Pittsburgh to a 3-1 victory over Houston Monday night.

"It helps mentally to get a home run," said Stargell who had collected only a single in 27 at-bats prior to Monday night's game. "But I would have been happy to have it go just over the screen . . . unless somebody is going to give me $1,000 every time I hit one over the roof."

Cincinnati slugged three home runs to dump the skidding Atlanta Braves 6-2 in the National League's only other game Monday.

In American League action, Baltimore defeated Boston 3-2, New York mauled Washington 11-2, Kansas City downed Oakland 4-2 in 11 innings and California shaded Milwaukee 5-4 in 10.

Stargell, who also drove in the Pirates' other run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning, was brimming with confidence after busting his early-season willies.

"It has to be uphill from here," said Walloping Willie, who boosted his batting average 32 points to .069. "I looked in the paper Sunday and I saw I had hit bottom."

The outer orbit in right field is fast becoming known as "Stargell's Stoop." It has only been reached 17 times in Forbes Field's 61-year history, and Stargell has made it six times.

After Stargell got Pittsburgh an early 1-0 lead, the Astrosted the game in the sixth on Denis Menke's run-scoring single which hit Pirate pitcher Chuck Ellis on the right hand. Ellis had to leave the game at the end of the inning.

Then Richie Hebner drew a walk from Jim Bouton in the sixth and Stargell hit one down town.

Tony Perez slammed his seventh homer and Johnny Bench and rookie Hal McRae added round-trippers as the homer-happy Reds won their sixth game in seven. The loss was the fourth straight for Atlanta.

"I beat everybody in the league last year except these guys," said the Reds' winning pitcher, Jim Merritt. "This one is some kind of sweet victory."

Manager Sparky Anderson of Cincinnati: "That's four solid games for Merritt. He really knows how to pitch. Every game's been just like that."

Merritt, who won his third game in four decisions, scattered six hits. His only trouble was in the ninth, when Rico Carty hit a two-run homer.

"Tony is the type of guy who figures hockey is hockey and business is business," said Phil. "Tony is the type of guy who figures hockey is hockey and business is business."

"I respect him for this feeling. So I'll leave him alone." The contest could be another characteristically bruising one between the two physical types, according to Chicago center Pit Martin.

"We've got to shake ourselves up, play good, cracking hockey," Martin said. "We've got to force the play, and not let them get the jump on us everytime."

Tonight's game will be in Chicago, as was game No. 1, won by Boston 6-3. It'll be an almost do-or-die situation for the Hawks, who can't afford to go to Boston for the third and fourth games behind 2-0.

In St. Louis, coach Red Kelly of Pittsburgh says his Penguins don't intend to be intimidated by the Blues in their second game. St. Louis holds a 1-0 advantage in the best-of-seven Western Division finals.

The Penguins lost 3-1 in the opener Sunday night—but went down swinging in a penalty-filled contest.

"They knew we were around," Kelly said, "and that's the way it's going to be the rest of the series. They didn't intimidate us one iota."

BATTING—Bob Oliver, Royals, crashed a two-run tying

Royals Come From Behind for Victory

Perseverance is becoming the Kansas City Royals' greatest virtue . . . and a saving grace for the California Angels, too.

The Royals overcame a 2-0 Oakland lead on Bob Oliver's two-run ninth inning homer Monday night and went on to defeat the A's 4-2 in the 11th—with Oliver socking another homer—for their second overtime victory in as many games.

California, which blew a 1-0 ninth-inning lead Sunday and finally bowed to the better-late-than-never Royals 4-1 in 13, squandered bases-loaded threats in the eighth and ninth innings, then nipped Milwaukee 5-4 on Roger Repoz' bases-loaded single in the 10th.

In the only other American League activity, the New York Yankees pounded Washington 11-2 and Baltimore edged Boston 3-2 in a game halted by rain after six innings.

Cincinnati topped Atlanta 6-2 and Pittsburgh trimmed Houston 3-1 in the only games on the National League schedule. Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odum blanked the Royals on two singles and struck out 12 through the eighth inning, but couldn't hold a two-run lead built on homers by Dick Green and catcher Dave Duncan.

After picking up his 13th strikeout to start the ninth, Odum yielded a single by Ed Kirkpatrick, got the second out on a leaping catch by shortstop Roberto Pena and then was tagged for Oliver's tying homer.

Kansas City reliever Moe Drabowsky worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the bottom of the ninth and the Royals finally broke the deadlock in the 11th.

The Angels, trailing 3-0 after six innings and hitless against Gene Grabender after a leadoff single by Sandy Alomar in the first, knocked out the Milwaukee starter with a four-run flurry in the seventh.

Repoz knocked in the tying run with a pinch single and pinch hitter Rick Reichardt's sacrifice fly gave the home club a 4-3 lead.

After the Brewers' Danny Walton, who had delivered two earlier runs with a double and his fifth homer, singled home the tying run in the eighth, California sizzled and fizzled before winning it on Repoz's third straight single.

The Angels collected 12 hits in the last four innings.

Danny Cater and Ron Woods slammed three-run homers to pace the Yanks' attack at Washington. Cater also doubled and singled, and Thurman Munson, 1-for-30 going into the game, stroked three hits, driving in a pair of runs.

Boog Powell drove in two Baltimore runs with a single and his second homer while right-hander Jim Palmer held the Red Sox to five hits in the rain-curtained Patriots Day game at Boston.

(AP) — Clark Graebner of New York and Manuel Santana of Spain defeated Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., and Jim Osborne of Honolulu 6-2, 8-6 Monday to win the men's doubles championship, final event in the Carolinas International Tennis Tournament. The victory was worth $1,000 to the winners.

Earnings by Barber Now $68,000

By EDMUND J. TUNSTALL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Miller Barber doesn't find himself in the winner's circle often but he knows how to make his arrow-straight golf game pay off.

His playoff victory in the rich New Orleans Open Monday put him among the year's leading money winners.

The pudgy, balding, 39-year-old Shreveport, La., native knocked in a 12-foot birdie putt on the 560-yard second hole of his playoff with lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand and Californian Howie Johnson.

The $25,000 first-place check spiraled Barber's winnings to more than $69,000 for the year. He was ninth on the money list for 1970 before the New Orleans event.

Barber, Charles and Johnson were tied with 10-under-par 278s at the end of the regulation 72 holes Sunday.

They teed it up Monday morning under a burning sun at the 7,080-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Johnson and Charles were both off the fairway on the first hole of the sudden death playoff but recovered to make par four. Barber knocked his drive down the middle, was on the green in two and just slipped past the hole on his try for a birdie.

Charles had to recover after slicing his tee shot badly while Barber and Johnson were on the 560-yard, par five second hole with their third and were going for birdies. Johnson missed his 18-foot birdie attempt by inches but Barber slapped his putt into the back of the cup and he was $25,000 richer.

The victory also qualified him for this week's Tournament of Champions where every player is assured of $2,500 for just showing up.

Though far from being a spectacular personality and rarely a tournament winner, Barber is a consistent money earner. He collected $105,000 in 1968 and brought home $90,000 last year.

Barber won his first tournament in 1964 in the Cajun Classic at Lafayette. He now makes his home in Sherman, Tex.

Johnson and Charles divided second and third money with each pocketing a shade better than $11,000.

Bases-loaded Single Wins for Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Roger Repoz' bases-loaded single in the 10th inning gave the California Angels a 5-4 victory over Milwaukee Monday night, extending the Brewers' losing streak to five games.

Alex Johnson opened the bottom of the 10th with a single off Lew Krausse, the sixth Milwaukee pitcher, and Joe Azcue sacrificed. Billy Cowan was walked intentionally and Aurelio Rodriguez beat out an infield hit, filling the bases before Repoz delivered the winning hit.

Danny Walton, who had driven in two earlier runs with his fifth homer and a double, pulled Milwaukee even 4-4 with a run-scoring single in the eighth.

Brewers' starter Gene Grabender led 3-0 and had permitted just one hit—a leadoff single by Sandy Alomar in the first inning—when the Angels erupted for four runs in the seventh.

Players Ignore Apparent Skid of the NFL

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Stram and Bud Grant, on opposite sides of the field in the Super Bowl, lined up today as members in good standing of the Coaches Union—verbally declining to see any special significance in a Kansas City-Minnesota opening game.

The National Football League schedule-makers, however, took note of the intense interest in an instant replay of their Super Bowl clash when they booked the two teams to meet at Minnesota when the season opens the weekend of Sept. 18-21.

Stram, whose Chiefs upset Grant's Vikings 23-7 at New Orleans last Jan. 11, stood behind words as tricky as a play from his huge repertoire and took note of the schedule by saying: "The 1970 season will be very challenging. The fact we are opening against the Minnesota Vikings further emphasizes the strong challenge that lies ahead."

Grant employed much the same technique, saying:

"What happened in New Orleans is history. The Kansas City game is just one of 14 we have to play. If you look at our schedule you will see pointing for one game would not be very wise."

While the coaches looked at it that way, General Manager Jim Finks of the Vikings had this appreciation of it:

"I'm sure most fans will look at it as a revenge game. But we will not make a vendetta out of it. We know one game won't make our season."

"But we welcome the opportunity to redeem ourselves."

The opportunity for redemption will come on the third day of a four-day opening week's schedule, the first drawn under the new two-conference NFL set-up and with an eye toward the Monday night television testing ground.

The schedule begins Friday night, Sept. 18 with St. Louis at Los Angeles, then spotlights Chicago at the New York Giants Saturday and a 10-game Sunday program that offers the Kansas City at Minnesota rematch.

In other Sunday openers, Atlanta will be at New Orleans, Baltimore at San Diego, Dallas at Philadelphia, Denver at Buffalo, Detroit at Green Bay, Houston at Pittsburgh, Miami at Boston, Oakland at Cincinnati and Washington at San Francisco.

The opening schedule winds up Monday night with the New York Jets at Cleveland in the first game of a 13-game Monday night series being telecast by the American Broadcasting Co. With that series, pro football hopes to broaden its popularity base.

Besides the Super Bowl rematch between Kansas City and Minnesota, the new schedule offers the Baltimore Colts two opportunities for revenge for

Knicks Take Milwaukee and Playoff

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Costello said it and the New York Knicks know it only too well.

"You can't build a championship team in two years," Coach Costello said logically after his two-year-old Milwaukee Bucks were bombed out of the National Basketball Association playoffs Monday night by the Knicks.

If any of the Knicks had heard him say it in the quiet of the Milwaukee dressing room after the 132-96 rout, they certainly would have agreed.

For all of their 23 years, the Knicks have been trying to win an NBA title, and now by eliminating the Bucks 4-1 in their best-of-seven Eastern Division final series, they have their first crack at it in 17 years, making the final for the first time since 1953.

The only club standing in their way now is the Los Angeles Lakers, another frustrated team which has been seeking the pot of gold in vain for all of its nine years on the West Coast.

Even more exasperating for the Lakers, they have reached this final series six times and come out second best to Boston each time.

The Knicks and Lakers, certain now to end the grasp that Boston and Philadelphia have held on this title for 13 years, open the best-of-seven set Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden with the second game here next Monday night.

The third and fourth games will be played in Los Angeles Wednesday night, April 29, and Friday night, May 1.

The Knicks know the Lakers aren't going to be as easy as the young Bucks, a collection of rookies, hand-me-downs and Lew Alcindor, who had jumped from last place in their first year in 1969 to second this season behind the Knicks.

New York wasted little time following Los Angeles into the final playoff after the Lakers completed a 4-0 rout of Atlanta Sunday. With Dick Barnett hitting 16 of his 27 points in the first quarter, the Knicks bounded away to a 35-19 lead and expanded that to 69-45 by halftime. Milwaukee never climbed closer than 20 again.

Alcindor finished with 27 points for 171 in the five games, but opposing center Willis Reed had 32 and Bill Bradley chipped in with 25 as the balanced Knicks outshot the Bucks from the field, 50.4 per cent to 39.6, and forced 27 turnovers.

their Super Bowl loss to the New York Jets at the end of the 1968 season.

The Jets also will meet their crosstown rivals from the National Conference, the New York Giants, while the new conference alignment offers several other interesting battles between clubs who will be meeting in regular season play for the first time.

Included among those are matchups between Los Angeles and San Diego, Cincinnati and Cleveland, Kansas City and St. Louis, San Francisco and Oakland and Dallas and Houston.

Under the new conference structure, the 16 holdover NFL teams and the 10 former AFL teams, now all linked in one league, begin competing this year in two equally-balanced conferences.

Cleveland, Baltimore and Pittsburgh have joined with the 10 AFL teams to form the American Conference while the 13 remaining NFL teams now comprise the National Conference.

Petty Becomes the First Triple Winner

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard Petty's victory at North Wilkesboro made him the first triple winner in stock car racing this season and boosted his point lead in NASCAR's Grand National Division. It was reported Monday, Petty has 941 points to 889 for runnerup Bobby Isaac. Third place is held by Bobby Allison with 883.

In the Grand American Division, Tiny Lund is out front in points and money winnings. Lund, with $9,950 in earnings, has picked up 396 points to 382 for runnerup Wayne Andrews.

Petty's team mate, Pete Hamilton, leads money earnings amount the Grand National drivers with $80,590.

Mother Knows Why Barber Called Mr. X

By HARRY KING Associated Press Writer

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Mae Barber understands her golf-playing son, Mr. X. She knows why he has been dubbed "The Mysterious Mr. X" by his fellow pros.

"Most of the boys on the tour are married and they've got nothing to do when they get through playing except sit around," said Mrs. Barber. "When Miller gets through playing he takes off. He has other fish to fry."

The fact that Barber wears prescription sunglasses has contributed to his loner image.

"They claim he hides behind those dark glasses," Mrs. Barber said. "But, the child can't see anything without his glasses and he can't wear contact lenses."

Blues Continue Mastery Over the Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Memphis Blues continued their mastery over Arkansas Monday night, beating the Travelers 9-5 for the third time in three tries.

The Blues scored in each of the first seven innings and never trailed after scoring twice in the first.

Memphis banged out 16 hits including Rick Haker's homer in the second.

Memphis's Buss Nitschke singled in a run in the third and the Blues added two in the fourth, and one each in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

Arkansas scored twice in the third on pitcher George Winslow's single and consecutive doubles by Lucky Thompson and Jose Cruz.

The Shreveport Braves scored their first Texas League victory Monday night, parlaying consistent pitching and a fine defensive effort into a 5-3 victory over San Antonio.

In other league action, Amarillo scored five runs in the first four innings and held on for a 5-4 victory over Dallas-Fort Worth and Albuquerque edged El Paso 8-7.

Amputee Sets Sights on Channel Swim

BOSTON (AP) — The amputee who pushed his wheelchair along the rain-soaked Boston Marathon route Monday now has his sights set on a swim across the English Channel.

Gene Roberts, 24, of Baltimore, who had both legs blown off when he stepped on a land mine in Vietnam in May 1966, finished the 26-mile, 385-yard BAA Marathon in 6 hours, 30 minutes.

Roberts wore asbestos gloves to keep his hands from burning. At the finish line, he thrust himself from the chair and fell across the white marker.

His brother, Jim, who finished the race earlier, was at the finish line to meet him.

Ron Hill of Cheshire, England, set a Marathon record in 2:10:30—about one third Roberts' time.

Two Repeat on ABA All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry and Mel Daniels are the only repeaters on the 1970 American Basketball Association All-Star team.

The team, announced Monday by commissioner Jack Dolph, includes Washington's Barry and Spencer Haywood of Denver at forward, Indiana's Daniels at center and Bob Verga of Carolina and Larry Jones of Denver at guard.

Haywood, the sensational rookie who led the Rockets from last place to the Western Division championship, is the only first-year man on the all-star unit. He was also chosen rookie of the year.

Second team selections included forwards Roger Brown and Bob Netolick of Indiana, center Red Robbins of New Orleans and guards Louis Dampier of Kentucky and Don Freeman of Miami.

Colts Hire a Former Oiler

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League today added Lou Rymkus, former head coach of the Houston Oilers, to their staff as offensive line coach.

Blues Continue Mastery Over the Travelers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Memphis Blues continued their mastery over Arkansas Monday night, beating the Travelers 9-5 for the third time in three tries.

The Blues scored in each of the first seven innings and never trailed after scoring twice in the first.

Memphis banged out 16 hits including Rick Haker's homer in the second.

Memphis's Buss Nitschke singled in a run in the third and the Blues added two in the fourth, and one each in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

Arkansas scored twice in the third on pitcher George Winslow's single and consecutive doubles by Lucky Thompson and Jose Cruz.

The Shreveport Braves scored their first Texas League victory Monday night, parlaying consistent pitching and a fine defensive effort into a 5-3 victory over San Antonio.

In other league action, Amarillo scored five runs in the first four innings and held on for a 5-4 victory over Dallas-Fort Worth and Albuquerque edged El Paso 8-7.

Amputee Sets Sights on Channel Swim

BOSTON (AP) — The amputee who pushed his wheelchair along the rain-soaked Boston Marathon route Monday now has his sights set on a swim across the English Channel.

Gene Roberts, 24, of Baltimore, who had both legs blown off when he stepped on a land mine in Vietnam in May 1966, finished the 26-mile, 385-yard BAA Marathon in 6 hours, 30 minutes.

Roberts wore asbestos gloves to keep his hands from burning. At the finish line, he thrust himself from the chair and fell across the white marker.

His brother, Jim, who finished the race earlier, was at the finish line to meet him.

Ron Hill of Cheshire, England, set a Marathon record in 2:10:30—about one third Roberts' time.

Arkansas Game & Fish

By JAY KAFFKA

LAKE VILLAGE, —Squirrel hunters in the state open during the spring hunt that runs May 15 through June 15, as the Game and Fish Commission opened all of its wildlife management areas except the Brandywine Island unit. These areas were closed during last year's hunt. Game Chief Bob Leonard said the areas were opened since there was no biological reason for them to be closed, and he added that the only closed areas for the spring hunt will be all state parks and federal refuges. The remainder of the state will be open.

The decision to open the wildlife management areas was made during the Commission meeting at Lake Village on April 13-14. The first day of the meeting was devoted to hearing delegations from the area discuss a wide variety of subjects.

M.R. Gibbs of Chicot County asked that a water control structure, maintained by the Commission to provide a source of water for Grand Lake, be removed to prevent flooding of the farm-lands above the dam. Gibbs is among area farmers who have filed a $2 million law suit due to damages from flooding allegedly caused by the dam. No action was taken on his request.

Sen. Mutt Gibson, Jr., discussed in general a wide variety of suggestions that the Commission should undertake, ranging from changing the opening of the dove season to prevent hunters from taking game not in season to advising hunters that the hunting license is not a license to trespass.

The Drew County Wildlife Association presented a resolution asking that doe hunts be discontinued in south Arkansas, that the Commission reconsider its proposal to charge for deer and turkey tags, and that a better system of getting deer kills reported be devised. The association also protested that "outsiders," or deer hunters from the northeastern part of the state using the Cutoff Creek Wildlife Management area, were coming in such numbers that they hunted outside of the boundary of the area and were encroaching upon Drew County deer clubs and camps, as well as their deer stands. Some members suggested that the Commission launch a campaign to inform hunters to observe hunting courtesy.

After being honored at a luncheon by the Lake Village Chamber of Commerce, the Commission and staff were treated to a catfish supper at the Lake Chicot State Park on April 13.

During the business session on the next day, the Commission voted to purchase 645 acres of land in the St. Francis Floodway near Marked Tree. The land, composed of seven different tracts ranging in size from 37 acres to 160 acres, is typical bottom hardwoods with good potential for deer and game. The land purchase is a part of the Commission's continuous, active land-acquisition program in the St. Francis Floodway. This purchase, along with some 15,000 acres previously purchased by the Commission, and the possibility of future purchases will help create a wildlife management area in Eastern Arkansas, an area which has been referred to as gradually approaching an "ecological desert" with the continued loss of the bottom hardwoods.

Arkansas Game & Fish

In other action the Commission voted to:

—Enter into a joint study of thermal pollution with the Arkansas Power and Light Company. The study, in its second phase, will be conducted on Lake Catherine in mid-summer. Of the $5,300 cost, the Commission cost will be about $1,100.

—Extend a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Fish Farming Experimental Station at Stuttgart in a study of diseases, parasites, and growth in channel catfish. The study is entering its fifth year, and provides the Commission with catfish. Upon completion of certain phases of the study, some fish are released into public waters. Under the same agreement last year, the Commission cost of the project was $3,500 and in return received nearly 29,000 half-pound channel catfish.

—Grant an easement of a power line across a small portion of Lake Overcup. The area affected, the extreme upper eastern arm above Highway 9, offers little—if any—fishing.

—Negotiate further with utility company in granting an easement across 43 acres of the Petit Jean Wildlife Management Area near Danville. The Commission hopes to secure land in lieu of a cash settlement from the power company, if possible, as well as wildlife food plantings on the right-of-way.

—Purchase a 40-acre tract of land in an area above Lake Ouachita so that a nursery pond may be built. The land now gives the

Animal In The Road

Driving through a suburban neighborhood, a motorist noticed a dog in the road ahead, gazing intently at something in the distance. Assuming that the dog would get out of his way, the motorist kept right on going.

Unfortunately, the dog failed to move until the last moment, too late to escape sudden death under the car's wheels.

Could the motorist be held legally liable for killing the dog? A court ruled that he could indeed. Pointing out that the motorist had enough time and enough space to swerve, with no danger to himself, the court said he had no right so heedlessly to snuff out the dog's life.

As a rule, a motorist must show a decent concern for dogs and other animals in our streets and highways. This does not mean, however, that he must take precautions that would inhibit normal driving practice. Consider this case:

A motorist approaching a farm saw several turkeys by the roadside. Just as he drew near, one of the turkeys scuttled into the front of his car and was struck down.

In short order, the farmer sued the motorist for damages. He argued that, since the turkeys were in plain sight, the motorist should have slowed down—just in case. But the judge held the motorist not liable, saying:

"I do not believe the law imposed upon him the duty of slowing down so he could immediately stop, just because one of these turkeys might take a notion to cross the road at an inopportune moment. Highways are not built for animals or fowls to stray in."

Of course, the motorist is even less to blame if the accident was simply not within the range of foreseeability. Another man was making a wide turn to enter his driveway one night when a neighbor's dog dashed unseen out of the darkness. The dog suffered fatal injuries, and his owner duly demanded damages on the theory that the car was on the wrong side of the street when the accident occurred.

But a court denied the claim, because the location of the car was not the real cause of the dog's death. The court said it was unfair to blame the motorist for an accident he could not have either foreseen or avoided.

HOPEWELL SCHOOL NEWS

The Health and Science classes at Hopewell Elementary School presented an exhibit April 13-16, 1970, depicting Nature Studies, Human Growth and Development, Rocks and Minerals, Plant Life and Insects, Etc.

The exhibit was held in the auditorium and was very educational as well as colorful and tastefully arranged, according to persons who attended.

Mrs. Jessie Mae McGhee, Assistant principal of Hopewell and Instructor of Health and Science, and her students worked especially hard and untiringly to make the exhibit possible.

The climax of the exhibit featured a lecture and slides shown by Cecil M. Biddle, Assistant Director of the Southwest Branch Experiment Station, Hope. The title he chose was, "The Oddities of Insects". Some of the more interesting insects discussed were: a. The honey bees and their way of life. It was interesting to note that only one queen can rule the colony and is the mother of all the bees in her colony. She lays as many as 300 eggs per day. b. The black widow spider and how she got her name. It was decided that at the time of mating she kills and devours her mate, thus leaving her a widow. c. The tick and the mite. After the tick has mated, she grows and grows until finally she dies. Upon her death, she opens and the hundreds of eggs are released.

Many, many more interesting facts were unfolded. It was an enjoyable discovery, and the department is looking forward to more educational experiences of this nature.

Cockrill Quits as Head of House Demos

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr., of Little Rock, who last week joined the Republican party, has formally resigned as majority leader of the Democratic-controlled Arkansas House.

House Democrats were informed Wednesday by Speaker Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana that he had requested and received Cockrill's resignation.

Cockrill confirmed Thursday that he was leaving the Democratic party to join the GOP and that he intended to run for either governor or lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

McClerkin wrote Democratic representatives that he had talked with Rep. Joel Ledbetter of Little Rock, majority whip, and others and that the consensus seemed to be that Ledbetter could take over Cockrill's duties on an interim basis with the aid of Democratic caucus leaders.

Nixon Could Face Political Dilemma

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon may face a political dilemma in the sudden decision of G. Harrold Carswell to make himself a candidate instead of just a campaign issue.

Carswell's political escalation will put his name on the Republican primary ballot in Florida. It is a name symbolic of the Supreme Court controversy certain to be an issue in congressional campaigns across the nation.

Rejected by the Senate for a seat on the Court, Carswell now seeks nomination to go to the Senate himself, as successor to retiring Democrat Spessard Holland.

That means a collision with Rep. William Cramer in the Sept. 8 Republican primary—and almost certainly, a bitter campaign in which both candidates will claim the Nixon stamp of approval.

Cramer said flatly Nixon urged him to run for the Senate in the first place. Other GOP sources confirmed this.

Carswell, on the other hand, can claim political inspiration in President Nixon's angry statement on his Supreme Court rejection—that "with the Senate as presently constituted" it is futile to nominate a conservative Southerner to the high court.

He must discard, however, a two-week-old piece of presidential advice. "The President has urged me to stay at my present assignment, and I intend to do so," the federal appeals judge said after the Senate voted down his nomination, 51 to 45.

Carswell's move apparently was engineered by Florida GOP Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr., who is seeking re-election himself this year. To make way for Carswell, Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne, a Kirk ally, stepped aside as a Senate candidate.

Republican leaders hoping the GOP can capture control of the Senate rate Florida as a top 1970 target but a divisive primary campaign between Cramer and Carswell could dampen GOP prospects in November.

Tuesday, April 21, 1970

The prospect of such a primary battle could entice new Democratic entries, notably former Gov. Farris Bryant.

The Democratic primary field now includes three members of the state legislature.

Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., was on hand to endorse Carswell at his Miami announcement. But most of the men who played key roles in the Senate battle over Carswell's court nomination chose silence.

Nature's Taste for Cannibalism

An Army book reporting on the discovery and exploration of the headwaters of Red River noted a century ago that the west Texas Indians had a fawn-cry game lure which would call to the hunter an unsuspecting, defenseless doe. But the same call also brought predators. The hunter who was looking for a deer suddenly found himself confronted by a cougar looking for dinner—and not particular about what he dined on.

The official language of an Army report merely documents Nature's well-known taste for cannibalism. The late wildlife writer, Albert Payson Terhune, once wrote in the old Liberty magazine about a prehistoric giant wolf that roamed North America. It could catch anything on earth, and kill anything it caught. Why then, asked Terhune, didn't it make all other wildlife extinct? The wolf, Terhune reported, had a fault in his appetite—he had a weakness for swallowing porcupines whole, quills and all. The quills festered in his stomach—and the conqueror of the Great Plains died of gangrene.

Cannibalism is a natural trait also to be found in men and the institutions men have devised. Let a man or an institution attract special attention either by success or advertisement and he is immediately set upon by the taxers and regulators of government. This is by way of introduction to an item I saw in the April 2 bulletin of the Arkansas Press Association. Here it is:

(From "A Word of It," by Bill Bray). The other night I was talking with a man who just spent several years as a lobbyist in Washington. It was his opinion that no industry is in as much trouble as the advertising industry. Almost everything proposed in the Capitol seeks to regulate advertising in some fashion. One of the most disturbing ideas to come yet is that the self-styled critics will be seeking an amendment to the Internal Revenue Act to disallow as a deductible business expense advertising that is not "informative" or "educational" to the consuming public, or "mass advertising" which in the opinion of these critics only tends to make the big bigger and does not benefit the consumer and constitutes "unfair competition."

Unfortunately, these Washington "advisors" never have really competed for a living. Most of them have lived out of the public feed trough most of their lives. We will agree with them that it sure enough is advertising which makes the big bigger. It's advertising that causes the public to beat a path to their doorstep. It's advertising that moves mountains of soap and cereal and the unending stream of automobiles and that has brought us new fads, silly inventions and the necessities of life.

It would have to be a mind completely out of tune with our free enterprise system that would suggest for a moment that we slow down economic progress brought about through the miracle of advertising. Advertising is based on the only true rule of economics, the law of supply and demand. To tinkler with this cornerstone of the free enterprise system through legislation is the most dangerous thought the "Washington experts" have had yet.

After all, the money for the taxes that pays their "mass salaries" and for their "informative and educational" advice (?) has to come from some place.

Pickle Workers Vote for Union

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board said Monday that employees of the Atkins Pickle Co. of Atkins had voted 60-33 in favor of representation by Local 878 of the Teamsters union.

Employees of the firm voted in January 1968 against representation by the Teamsters, but the union challenged the election and the results were set aside.

Carswell to Seek Seat in Senate

MIAMI (AP) — Judge G. Harold Carswell, rejected Supreme Court nominee, has decided to seek election to the U.S. Senate "to join President Nixon in his goals of restructuring our country and its government along constitutional, conservative lines."

Carswell's announcement Monday, two weeks after his Senate turnaround, sets up a Republican primary battle with U.S. Rep. William Cramer—who claims support from the White House.

The Senate rejected Carswell 51 to 45 on April 8.

Carswell, who said he had resigned as a judge of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, announced his candidacy at a Miami news conference called by Gov. Claude Kirk.

With Kirk and Carswell standing beside him, Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne declared he was withdrawing from the Senate race in the interest of party unity. Osborne, Florida's first lieutenant governor, had been actively campaigning for the Senate nomination for months.

In Washington, Cramer, a member of the House for 16 years, said:

"President Nixon personally urged me to run for the U.S. Senate. This has not changed."

"He also urged Judge Carswell to remain on the bench where strict constructionists of the Constitution are needed. I am heading President Nixon's call and I hope Judge Carswell will do likewise."

Carswell, 50, said "for 17 years, I have served as prosecutor and in the judicial branch of our government. . . . Now, the same sense of service and duty to principle leads me to the Senate race. In reality, I am seeking to serve in the same tradition but with a new direction and dimension."

Carswell and Cramer are seeking the Senate seat to be vacated through retirement of Democrat Spessard Holland. Florida's Republican senator, Edward Gurney, was present at Carswell's news conference.

Democratic candidates in the Sept. 8 primary are FR. Schultz, speaker of the Florida House of Representatives, and State Sens. Lawton Chiles and Robert Haverfield.

Carswell's only previous try for elective office was in 1948 when he made an unsuccessful bid for the Georgia Legislature.

The Postman Brings Some Rare Letters on Events in Your Past

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Letters the postman rarely brings: "Remember me—Clem Cuthbert, who was voted the clown of our high school class? Well, old Clem hasn't turned out to be such a clown after all. I've hit it rich buying and selling oil wells, and plan to retire at 45 next year. As a retirement gesture, I intend to charter a plane and take all the members of our graduating class and their wives on a two-week vacation trip to Hawaii. Naturally, I'll be my pleasure to pick up all the tabs, and I do hope that you and your wife will be able to."

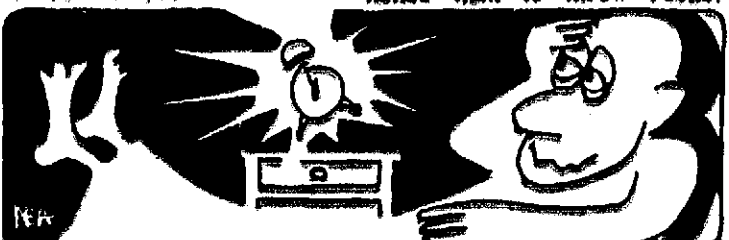

"I am the proprietor of an art gallery and my wife Joan is the kindergarten teacher of your little daughter Millicent. Recently Joan showed me some of your daughter's finger paintings. I was struck by their precocity and originality which far surpass, in my opinion, the early work of Grandma Moses. Would you give me permission to put 20 or 30 on long-term exhibit, with the prices ranging from $250 to $500 each?"

"I suppose you'll be glad to know, Dad, that I've made up my mind, after considerable soul searching, to drop out of our college revolutionary group. The fact is I'm going steady now with a girl who has convinced me it's more fun to hold hands than to throw rocks."

"Our computer, after checking the attitudes and aptitudes of 15,000 single girls in files, finds the one most likely to be your true soulmate is Miss Elvira Parsley, beautiful heiress to one of the country's largest fortunes. Miss Parsley has been shown your photograph and says she can hardly wait to meet you in person. She has allowed us to inform you that her phone number is—"

"A study of your employer's astrological chart reveals that the generous side of his nature holds his pugnacious traits most in thrall when Venus is ascending over Mars. That is the situation now. You are guaranteed to merit raise if you hit him up for one at exactly 3:31 next Tuesday afternoon. Remember, the stars never fail."

Spacemen to Tell World About Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT

AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts tell the world tonight the story of their space adventure—the oxygen tank explosion that crippled their spaceship and a four-day fight for survival to return safely home.

Earlier, they meet with the head of a review board named to investigate the accident that aborted the $375 million moon-landing mission.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. make their report on a nationally televised and broadcast news conference at 7:30 p.m. EST. They'll also narrate a film and slides they took in space.

Lovell has already given an indication of the feelings of the astronauts during their moments of peril, when he told a welcoming ceremony in Houston Sunday that there were times they felt they wouldn't make it back to earth.

The review board head, Edgar M. Cortright, flew to the Manned Spacecraft Center Monday night to meet with the astronauts today, starting a lengthy probe to determine exactly what went wrong 202,000 miles in space and what could be done to correct the problem.

Until a solution is found, all future Apollo moon flights will be grounded. While experts analyze the trouble, preparations moved ahead at Cape Kennedy for the planned Oct. 1 launch of Apollo 14.

"We'll proceed on a routine schedule until we're told to do otherwise," a space agency spokesman said.

Cortright, head of the space agency's Langley, Va., Research Center, met Monday in Washington with the NASA administrator, Dr. Thomas O. Paine. They began formulating the membership of the high-level review board and said the President Hopeful of Defusing Vietnam War as a Political Issue

By LEWIS GULICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon apparently hopes to defuse Vietnam as a political issue in the 1970 elections with his surprise announcement of troop withdrawals spanning a year.

Virtually up to the moment Nixon went on the air Monday night, the widespread expectation in Washington was for another presidential troop pull-back announcement covering a period of a few months, similar to his spacing since the withdrawals started last June.

With his new 150,000-man return order, Nixon is still bringing the boys home from Vietnam at about the same pace as before but the next stage would not have to be announced until next spring.

While Nixon left himself room to announce a further pull-out closer to the November elections—"we shall withdraw more than 150,000 over the next year if we make progress on the negotiating front"—he may have figured that:

—He would be accused of manipulating for political gain with an announcement during campaign time.

—Whatever announcement he made then would be attacked by antiwar critics as not enough. With a 150,000-man figure out now, his supporters could at least cite an in-process grand total of 265,000 withdrawals—about half the GIs out in Nixon's first two years.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democrats' 1968 choice for vice president, promptly made plain he is not dropping Vietnam as an issue and put his finger on what bids to be a key Vietnam argument in the 1972 presidential campaign preliminaries next year.

The Maine senator said Nixon's statement suggests "that beginning sometime next spring, our troop levels in South Vietnam will level off at something like 284,000 for an indefinite period."

The issue of how many shall stay on in Vietnam indeed comes closer with each pull-back. A year hence, assuming no more progress at the negotiating table than hitherto, Nixon will be faced with a decision on cutting into what some believe is a hard core minimum of 200,000 or so GIs still needed to prevent South Vietnam's being overrun.

S. Vietnam Troops Push Into Cambodia of 150,000 Men

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says the U.S. will withdraw 150,000 troops from Vietnam during the next year. The decision announced in a television-radio address from San Clemente, Calif., approximately continues the pace of troop withdrawals established in recent months.

Initial field reports said 20 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 75 wounded Monday, the first day of fighting. It was the heaviest losses reported for the South Vietnamese in three massive sweeps across the border in the past week.

Informed sources said a task force of up to 2,000 South Vietnamese Rangers and scores of tanks and armored personnel carriers drove as much as two miles into Cambodia's Svay Rieng Province, about 55 miles west of Saigon.

The crossing was made near the South Vietnamese town of Tuyen Binh, on the under side of the territorial protruberance known as the Parrot's Beak and about 25 miles southwest of the Highway 1 border crossing where the two previous penetrations into Cambodia were made.

The sources said the Saigon troops ran into strong enemy forces shortly after the operation was launched Monday morning. Pushing across open ground through rice paddies and a cluster of villages, the South Vietnamese reported capturing

Fire Damages University of Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A fire caused extensive damage to the student union of the University of Kansas in this racially tense campus city Monday night. Officials said the cause of the blaze was not known.

Dennis Kallisen, assistant city manager, said three fire bombs were found at Lawrence High School, and one exploded, causing minor damage to the administration building.

Kallisen said some windows of buildings nearby were broken apparently by rifle or shotgun fire.

Kallisen said there were no roving armed bands shooting out windows that he knew of. "In fact," he said, "traffic was at a minimum."

A fireman told a Lawrence Journal-World reporter that windows at the Santa Fe Railroad depot were shattered.

A crowd of students gathered around the student union building and some helped firemen for more than three hours before the blaze was brought under control.

Earlier Monday, the student body at Lawrence High had turned down a demand by black students that two of the school's five cheerleaders be Negro.

All city schools were dismissed Friday because of the racial unrest.
